Hi All,

NYPV has a new meeting place. Jim and Nancy have work tirelessly to bring this to fruition. The space is housed in the professional offices of The Student Film Makers Magazine where many lectures and seminars are held for our industry.

The Address to look at the photos of the space is at www.StudentFilmMakers.com Explore the site, it is very interesting but also if you follow through to the events tab you will find several seminars you might want to go to.

The physical address of the building is:

1123 Broadway

(Intersection of Broadway & 25th Street by 5 th Avenue).

Room 307

N.Y., N.Y. 10010

We will begin networking at 6:30 and end about 10:00. We're paying a fee for the space so bring your own food if you'd like to eat something.

Please bring ideas for future meetings. We'd like to get the programming aspect of the meeting together much earlier so people can plan in advance.

Once again, we'd like to thank Andy Levison for the use of his home during the last quarter of the year. I am particularly grateful as I was able to attend the meeting and still make my physical therapy for my hip.

Re: Topic

We'll be discussing the latest trend in the industry which is Fusion. Photographers are doing video, Videographers and doing photography, what does it all mean.

Jim O'Keefe of All Jersey Studios has been doing FUSION for years and will talk about how he does it. He'll be talking about adding Photography to your line up of products you offer your clients. He did back in 2005 and hasn't looked back.

Show us your stuff! Please bring something you'd like feedback on, preferably a project you are currently working on.

Please RSVP on the NYPV facebook page. Thanks.

See you Monday at 6!

Regards,

Kathy Ritondo
